Understanding the Problem Statement

- Traveling to unrecognised places is hard sometimes, traveler doesn't have enough knowledge to plan the trip.
- Its hard to find veg/Jain restaurants and other necessary like good attraction points at never visited areas.
- You don't know where to travel.
- Traveller can't find best path to reach the destination and roams in rounds around place.
- There is no reliable community of travellers.

About Roam and Explore

- One can find photos and blogs about destinations by other travellers who actually visited those destinations.
- People can share their personal reviews about particular visited place.
- Traveller can give special tips like how to reach easily to destination and other tips like popular food , etc.
- This website is about showing you what its really like on the roads.
- One can also share their personal blogs, videos, and photos to public, too.

THANK YOU
